

DUNSTAN HOUSE NEWSLETTER

JUNE 2012

Dunstan House has closed its doors for the winter months after another busy season. We always comment how “every night is different” as it has been again a season with such a variety of guests, cyclists, wedding guests, family reunions, film crews, journalists and our regular fruit marketers to mention a few. It all makes for some great conversations over a glass of wine or around the breakfast table.

Our Clyde village continues to promote itself as a destination and the introduction of our ‘Clyde on Sunday’ market and music days generated new interest for the visitors and enthusiasm for the local businesses that organised each themed event. These will commence again in the spring.

Clyde is also playing a major role in Dunstan Gold 150 celebrating the Central Otago Gold Rush 1862-2012. On 2nd June Dunstan House hosted a Gambling Saloon Night with our downstairs rooms full of gambling tables. The Buckingham Belle dancing girls re-enacted their predecessor’s entertainment for the miners with a colourful floor show and the auction of ‘funny money’ saw purchases of moonshine, gold nuggets and of course our great local wines. A high note to close our doors and we reopen at the end of August.
